FOR LEADERS AT ALL LEVELS

Our values drive our beliefs and behaviors. Identifying highest held values can clarify why people do, act, and make decisions as they do. Values discovery builds trust and motivation within teams and can create alignment with organizational values and mission. Creating personal and team visions can clear out distractions and bring focus that inspires and motivates. Through discovering core values and crafting a leadership vision, leaders gain clarity and direction both personally and professionally. Ultimately, the values, beliefs, and behaviors held and lived by leaders influence and are reflected in the culture of an organizational.

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

Through this interactive and highly self-reflective workshop, participants will tap into their leadership potential and:

- Understand the connection between individual and organizational values
- Explore and identify core personal values and understand how they are experienced and expressed in beliefs and behaviors
- Understand how values and vision are connected to emotional intelligence and have a direct impact on decision making
- Consider the extent to which they are living in alignment with their values
- Develop and draft a personal leadership vision

*Option to include individual and team values assessment.
